UPAF CELEBRATES THE PERFORMING ARTS

The United Performing Arts Fund (UPAF) celebrates the performing arts as an example of what is right in our community. The arts infuse our society with vitality, energy and inspiration. Music lifts our spirits, theater engages our minds, and dance reacquaints us with the majesty and potential of the human form. The arts summon the creativity and motivation within us all.

The operational support UPAF provides to its 35 Member and Affiliate Groups enables them to touch a million people through performances, educational programming, and outreach each year. Your gift to UPAF is the life-blood of all these groups; and you can rest assured they will deliver the performance excellence and high management standards UPAF requires.

WHY?

The intrinsic values of the arts provide us with many personal benefits. The arts:

- provoke us to examine our thoughts and opinions and to exchange ideas with others.
- quiet our thinking and provide space for emotions to surface; and whether we laugh or cry, we are moved.
- open our minds to the possibilities of other realities.
- encourage us to stretch our imaginations.
- build and strengthen our sense of community.
- invoke a sense of wonder, amaze and astound us.

These experiences are invaluable.

WHAT'S MORE...

The performing arts breathe life into our community and make it a special destination. So many people feel the impact of your UPAF support:

- audience members who are moved and interconnected by performances,
- businesses that are able to attract and retain talent because of our thriving performing arts community,
- students who are able to increase their confidence, creativity and ability,
- and artists who are able make a living and stay in our city.
